What I pack

Two frequent-flying businesswomen reveal the fine art of carry-on, carry-off travel.

BY REBECCA BROADLEY

KATE STANNERS

CREATIVE PARTNER, SAATCHI & SAATCHI UK

Stanners makes four long-haul trips a year, plus monthly client visits to Europe. Whenever she flies, 'all sorts of debris comes with me. When you're a mother [of Otto, 5], eight hours alone is quite a fantasy'.

- 1 TOILET BAG 'It's chunky, and great for fitting everything in.' About £945, Chloé.
- 2 A5 NOTEPAD 'I prefer collecting my thoughts on paper.' £150, Smythson of Bond Street.
- 3 BLACKBERRY 'It's indispensable, but gladly turned off.' Prices vary according to contract.
- 4 CASHMERE SCARF 'For escaping in-flight draughts.' £135, Crumpet.
- 5 PAUSET PUMPS 'I pack these in with my Paul & Joe or Chloé shoes.' £239, Emma Hope.
- 6 BOOK 'The Damned Utd by David Peace (£7.99, Faber) – I am a Leeds United fan.'
- 7 CAMERA 'My Leica is my dream camera, and it's so small.' £420, Leica.
- 8 JEANS 'Great for meetings worn with a dressier top.' £165, Earnest Sewn.

NOREENA HERTZ

ECONOMIST, AUTHOR AND CAMPAIGNER

As well as teaching at Rotterdam School of Management, Hertz spends much of her time on the road, presenting to CEOs and heads of state all over the world.

- 1 WISPER BAG 'It's resilient and small.' £200, Mandarina Duck.
