

THE  TIMES

23.10.10

MAGAZINE

TAMARA MELLON

How to succeed in business without breaking a nail

Is Glenn Beck
the angriest man
in America?

Caitlin Moran's
Lust List

PLUS

Melanie Reid
Robert Crampton
Giles Coren

Style In store

THE TROPHY

Update winter wardrobes with this sweet satchel. Faux shearling bag, £18, New Look (newlook.com).

THE LITTLE GEM

Cardigan, £248, by Crumpet – our favourite new cashmere label (crumpetengland.com).

THE STEAL

The newest style watch from the Gucci stable: U-Play, £595 (guccitimepieces.com).

JANE TAYLOR-HAYHURST

THE DETAIL

Hiking boots

The ideal way to “dress down” a beautiful frock this winter is with boots, and this is exactly what man of the moment Erdem did in his autumn/winter collection (above). One of the biggest hits of the season, the hiker is a fashionista favourite and perfect for everyday wear. Try asos.com, from £55, or Russell & Bromley, whose Hi-tide boots come in black, tan or khaki, £165 (020-7629 6903).

Pssst...

Ever wondered what inspires the likes of Oscar de la Renta, Roland Mouret and Paul Smith when they're designing their collections year after year? The new book Couture in the 21st Century by Deborah Bee (£40, A&C Black) is a brilliant insight into what gets the creative juices of some of the world's top designers flowing. With portraits shot by Rankin, it's a feast for fashion fans. Available from harrods.com.

Check out Harvey Nichols stores for the newly launched Hi Panda brand, which was designed by Shanghai artist Ji-Ji. With fans including Pharrell Williams, Inès de la Fressange and Catherine Deneuve, the range includes sculptures, totes, toys and caps. T-shirts start at £45 (harveynichols.com).

THE LITTLE THINGS THAT COUNT: CLOG BOOTS

Summer 2010's must-have footwear lives on – but given a winter makeover

