

The Sunday Telegraph

26 July 2009

stella

LEADING LADY THE IRRESISTIBLE RISE OF ROSE BYRNE

MONEY CAN BUY YOU LOVE

The mail-order bride who broke the mould

WUNDERKINDER R US

A week in the life of Britain's teen prodigies

ALL IN THE BEST POSSIBLE TASTE

At home with the cookery writer
Sophie Conran

FOOD

EAT MY WORDS

Diana Henry reveals her favourite food blogs

Creature comfort

We can't get enough of animal prints at the moment. Worn in moderation - this leopard-print cashmere stole from Crumpet is perfect - they are a deeply chic way of jazzing up a dull outfit. £197; 01206 396902

CRUZ COLLECTION

She's Pedro Almodóvar's darling and the highlight of Woody Allen's finest film in years - Penélope Cruz, with her siren-like glamour and mesmerising screen presence, is a true star. Check out her impressive oeuvre at the BFI's Penélope Cruz season, starting on Saturday with Jamón, Jamón. 020 7928 3232

*WIN THIS

To celebrate the recent launch of Stone Bar, Monica Vinader's drool-worthy jewellery counter in Harrods, Stella is giving away five cocktail rings (worth £180) made from 18ct-gold vermeil and aqua blue chalcedony. Log on to telegraph.co.uk/promotions to enter

CROWD PLEASER

We love these wonderful Crowd glasses from Reiko Kaneko: The unusual, subtle design makes them an eye-catching yet low-key addition to the table. £19.95 for two; reikokaneko.co.uk

GALLERY MESS, AT THE SAATCHI GALLERY,

is the latest of London's increasingly stylish gallery restaurants. Littered with neon artwork and huge sculptures and serving deliciously fresh food, it's the perfect spot for post-exhibition refreshment. 020 7730 8135

